Farmingville, NY - On April 7, Councilwoman Valerie M. Cartright honored the members of the Terryville Evening Homemakers at their 50th Anniversary celebration.

Terryville Evening Homemakers provide handmade blankets and hats for premature babies to the Little Angel Fund, comfort those who are ill or have a family member who is ill with handmade quilts, provide food and toiletries for Hope House Ministries and families in need, have adopted a Marine Unit overseas, and award yearly scholarships to local students.

"I was honored to join this exceptional group of women to celebrate 50 years of dedication to comforting others in the community in their time of need," said Councilwoman Cartright. "I appreciate the continuing dedication and hard work of the members of the Terryville Evening Homemakers and I am grateful for their efforts in the Town of Brookhaven."
